

Volunteer of the Month (August)

Just a bit obsessed with bikes at the moment.

Learning to cook and attempting to read big books.

Hopes to live the good simple life on a farm some day.

-Rob

Volunteer of the Month (September)

I came to Canada in 1998 at the age of 9, so I feel a connection with both the western and Asian aspects of the culture in Vancouver. I think volunteering for the CCPC is a great way to help out the community and stay in touch with my heritage. The downtown east-side has always been regarded as a socially disorganized neighbourhood, but by working with the CCPC I feel that I am, even if in a small way, contributing to the improvement of the situation.

Volunteer of the Month (October)

Jenny was born in Xi'an, China. She came to Vancouver in the year 2000 and lived here ever since. She attended Simon Fraser University where she obtained her two bachelor degrees in Psychology and Criminology. Jenny enjoys volunteering at the Chinese Community Policing Centre; it has given her the best learning experience and the opportunity to meet new friends.

九月份最傑出義工

我一九九八年來加拿大所以我能夠在溫哥華體會到西方和亞洲的文化。我認為在華人警訊服務中心當義工是一個很好的機會讓我可以幫助社區和跟我的文化有聯繫。市中心的東側一直被視為是一個社會混亂的鄰里。但

在華人警訊服務中心當義工，是一種小的方式有助
